FRIDAY MORNING, SEPT. 26, 1879.

The whole number of voters registered in Philadelphia is 193,477, an increase of 3,857 over 1878.

The official vote in California corrected by counties gives Perkins (Rep.), 65,060; (Glenn) (Dem.), 44,536; and White (Workman), 43,914.

The members of the Ohio Greenback State Committee profess to have advice from sixty counties in the State, of which only two show any defection.

WILLIAM HARRIS, a wealthy citizen of Dandridge, Tenn., has adopted Mrs. Chisom's youngest son Willie, and will give him a good home and education.

The New Orleans Picayune says that the supreme moment of a leader's life is when a candidate asks for the use of his influence with the workmen of his ward.

It is estimated that the whole State of California, where about 160,000 votes were cast on the Chinese question, not more than a thousand of these were in favor of the Chinese.

Ex-Senator HENDERSON, of Missouri, in a recent letter, says: "Sherman is our man for President. He is the only man we can elect, and I would be glad to carry Missouri for him."

The crop of breadstuffs is earlier in the market this year than last, the amount of wheat in sight being 50 per cent larger than a year ago and that of other grains is larger in proportion.

HERE is a chance for inventors. A Buffalo grape sugar company offers $10,000 "for any appliance to our boilers that will consume smoke and not diminish the quantity of steam now obtained."

This epigrammatic statement of the Southern question in politics is attributed to Secretary Everts: "The South went into the war and lost everything but honor. It went into Congress and lost everything it had saved from the war."

Among the speakers engaged by the Massachusetts Republicans are Representatives Burrows and Frye, Senators Dawes, Hoar and Chandler, General Hawley, Professor J. H. Seelye, President Chalmers of Williams College, Colonel T. W. Higginson and Martin I. Townsend.

OWING partly to its pest of swindlers the valuation of Fall River, Mass., this year falls off about $4,000,000 as compared with last year. The tax rate has increased from $17.50 to $18.00 on each thousand dollars, and there are 1,615 fewer persons in the city than there were a year ago.

THE forests around the great lakes, like those of the seaboard a generation ago, have ceased to meet the demands on them. Large as this year's lumber yield will be in the Northwest, 3,300,000,000 feet, it falls fully 800,000,000 feet below the expected amount. The receipts of lumber at Chicago are a third larger this season than last.

LOUISIANA'S Temperance Alliance give the amount of liquor drunk in the State at $42,000,000 yearly, or $2,000,000 more than the value of the combined cotton, sugar and rice crops. They have issued a call to the voters to stop some of this waste by electing members of the Legislature in favor of prohibiting the traffic on Sunday.

BLANTON DUNCAN, of Kentucky, whom the Maine Greenbackers put on the stump in the latter State and withdrew from there, found that his talk was offensive to the Democrats, has written to the Secretary of the State Greenback Committee two letters in which he upbraids the managers of the fusion canvass, and calls them "jackasses," "conspirators," and other dreadful names.

GENERAL GRANT is solemnly advised by the Utica Herald to fling away ambition, as "there is the certainty, if he yields to temptation, that his name will become a foot-ball for bitter wrangles, and that, should he finally succeed in securing the Republican nomination for President, the cordial and generous feeling of nearly half his countrymen will sink again into the sullen ill-feeling which partisanship always inspires."

SCHUYLER COLfax is healthier, happier, and richer now than he was when he was Vice-President of the United States. He works six months in the year as a lecturer, arranging his trips so that he may be at home Sundays with his family. During four years he has cleared $40,000 at this business, and has been free from the worry and exactions of public life. His good fortune may well be envied by half the members of Congress.

VIRGINIA'S Conservatives are throwing considerable spirit into the pending legislative campaign, and the voice of their orators is heard from the mountains to the sea. The readjusters, who are trying to climb into office by upsetting the debt settlement made by the Legislature, are fighting hard, but the brains, logic and purse of the State is proving too much for them. Meanwhile the refunding of the State debt keeps briskly on, and the Auditor's office expects to have $3,000,000 in the new bonds by October 1.

ANNOUNCEMENT was made a few days ago that Mr. A. Bronson Alcott and Mr. Joseph Cook would be at the Theological Chapel at Andover, Mass., last Monday evening, to answer questions which might be given in writing by any one in the audience. The chapel was filled to its utmost capacity, Professor Alcott, president of the following are some of the questions with Mr. Alcott's replies:

Q. "What were Mr. Emerson's methods of writing in his most literary days?" A. "His characteristic writings were and are the result of notes which he had gathered in and from his daily observations. From these notes he selects those on the subject upon which he wishes to write, and getting them arranged in proper order, his essay is written. This is the secret of the beauty and entirety of his paragraphs."

Q. "Does the philosophical theism of Concord consider prayer necessary?" A. "Yes."

Q. "What is the opinion of Unitarianism?" A. "In my opinion Unitarianism will be short-lived and will be absorbed partly by Orthodoxy, and the remaining portion will descend to something worse than itself."

Q. "Does Mr. Emerson expect personal existence after death?" A. "He believes there must be such to complete the formation of what is in this world but just begun."

A Review of the Situation—European Affairs and America's Surplus.

In this week's issue of the Orphan and Provisioner, Mr. J. O. Mellen, of Chicago, writes as follows:

I give below a remodeled estimate of the wheat production for 1879, partly official and partly approximate, of the United States, which I am confident will be found very near correct, as they are in the main official. I shall, however, use even figures, giving production the "odd change," in order to be sure that the figures are enough.

New England States, 1,800,000 bushels; New York and Delaware, 1,500,000; Maryland, 2,500,000; Virginia, 1,000,000; North Carolina, 1,000,000; South Carolina, 1,000,000; Georgia, 1,000,000; Florida, 1,000,000; Alabama, 1,000,000; Louisiana, 1,000,000; Arkansas and Indian Territory, 1,000,000; Texas (largest wheat section), 1,000,000; Missouri (partially failure in some sections), 1,000,000; Wisconsin (partially short in south half), 1,000,000; Kansas (winter wheat mainly destroyed by drought), 1,000,000; Nebraska, 1,000,000; Dakota, 1,000,000; California and Oregon, 1,000,000; Other Territories, 1,000,000; Total, 41,900,000.

The reports concerning the European harvests are of no unfavorable nature, and are really alarming, and if the estimated shortages in the various wheat producing countries of that Continent are even approximately correct, the total wheat production of the world will fall very considerably short of the requirements of the world, and to one acquainted with the magnitude of this deficiency the unprecedented exportations of the past six weeks will create no surprise.

In consequence of the unusually disastrous outlook in Bulgaria and Hungary, the export of grain has been stopped by Court decree. The estimates of deficiency to the Russian crop is 28 per cent on a crop of about 325,000,000 bushels—shortage equal to more bushels than was ever exported from that country. In Southern Italy, Spain and Portugal the wheat harvest was nearly a total failure. The French deficiency is reported as fully equal to, if not greater than, last year. The German provinces have various turns as to wheat, a full average in some, but large deficiencies in others; while the rye crop, of which the consumption is much larger than wheat and equals about 240,000,000 bushels is 25 per cent below the usual result—a very important deficiency in the deficiency is to be made up with (or even partially so, of) wheat imports. H. Kains Jackson estimates the shortage for the British Islands to be full 10,000,000 quarters, or the enormous amount of 135,000,000 bushels; and not only in the wheat deficient, but the barley and wheat crops are largely below an average, and last, but not least, the potato crop is also woefully below an average yield, about 75,000,000 bushels shortage, which shortage must be supplied mainly by increased imports of wheat. I therefore make the following new estimates of European requirements of wheat according to last advances (some official and others approximate), as follows:

British Islands, 135,000,000 bushels; France and dependencies, 20,000,000; Germany and North Sea ports, 20,000,000; Holland and Belgium, 10,000,000; Spain and Portugal, 15,000,000; Italy and Mediterranean ports, 10,000,000; South America and India (mostly Java), 5,000,000; China, 1,000,000; Total, 240,000,000.

According to the deficiencies reported, these estimates are under the requirements of the world, and the surplus of other countries than the United States, which result is it simply impossible to obtain. Russia, from her most favorable crop of wheat, exports something over 70,000,000 bushels, and should the shortage on this year's crop be only 20 per cent, instead of 28 per cent, as estimated, her surplus for export will be simply nil; but, allowing the damage to be overestimated, and that Russia can furnish say, 20,000,000 bushels, the following figures result after making the largest approximate estimate for supplies from the remainder of the wheat producing countries of the globe than the United States. My estimate is as follows:

Russia, 70,000,000 bushels; United States, 100,000,000; Canada, 10,000,000; Australia, 10,000,000; Chili, 10,000,000; Argentina, 10,000,000; Total, 210,000,000.

This estimate exhausts the wheat producing countries of the world, and indicates an absolute deficiency of supply under usual average consumption of at least 23,000,000 of bushels.

These figures would be alarming were it not that, in a considerable extent, wheat can be supplemented by corn, and probably will, to a great extent, should the value of wheat increase in proportion to the apparent shortage and the general market runs its usual course, when the facts of supply and demand are considered.

Why Democrats Should Not be Greenbackers.

From the Danville (Va.) Register.

If there is any one cardinal truth imbedded in every State and National platform of the Democratic party from 1793 up to 1860 it is that idea which recognizes gold and silver as the only honest money.

In 1861, 1862 and 1863 the few Democrats—like Pendleton, and Voorhees, and Vallandigham—who remained in Congress planted themselves squarely upon this time-honored plank in the Democratic platform, and spoke, wrote and voted against the heresy of National paper money.

Clement L. Vallandigham, then whom a truer Democrat never lived, declared in his last Congress that "paper money was an invention of the devil, and every man who used it was a traitor to his country."

The Republican party forced paper money down the throats of the Democrats in and out of Congress.

The Republican party made a paper money, which they called greenbacks, and sold it for 35, 40 and 45 cents on the dollar, when the United States Treasurer called it into existence and the markets of the world and sold Federal bonds for not less than 60 cents on the dollar.

The Republican party built up the bloated, bondholding class and every man, press, and on every stump, the Democratic party charged it with jobbery, with robbery, and favoritism.

The Democratic party wanted to get back into power.

In 1868 it forewore its time-honored devotion to honest gold and silver money, and took to its embraces the greenback.

The National Democratic party indorsed the greenback, and from every stump and nearly every press the party proclaimed the dirty greenback rag of the dirty Republican party to be, par excellence, the money of the people and the currency of the Democratic party.

The Republican party, wanting to be kept in power, abandoned its greenback, and came out for honest money—for redemption of gold and silver.

Miracle! A time-honored Democratic party—the time-honored Madison, and Jackson and Calhoun, and Benton, and Cass, and Douglas—this party founded on gold and buttressed about with silver—now arrays itself on the side of a rotten rag money, fiat money, inflationist, idiotic currency.

The Danville Register is no political prostitute; it will never feed from the Republican table.

It is for honest money—for old-time Democracy which insured success; for State rights;

And says to hell with all cast-off Republican greenback heresies!

Profitable Freight Rates from the West.

For the first time in several years the transportation people, as a whole, are feeling pretty well satisfied with the situation. The enormous crops of this year, in connection with the general revival of business, are giving carriers about all the business they can conveniently take care of.

Vessel owners, boatmen and railways are all doing a heavy trade, which is shown by the fact that the deliveries at the seven leading seaboard ports from January 1 to September 6, 1879, aggregate the enormous amount of 184,000,000 bushels, which is 21,000,000 bushels in excess of last year's movement, and nearly two and a half times as great as the corresponding months of 1877.

As might be anticipated under the circumstances, freight rates are pretty well up and are firm. The prevailing rate from Chicago to Buffalo at present is 5 cents on wheat and 4 cents on corn. This is a fair freight, but the boatmen are doing better than the vessel owners, in proportion.

The closing rates last evening on wheat from Buffalo to New York by canal was 9 cents, and 8 cents on corn. There is money in these rates, and the result is a number of boats are being built, thus giving work to the boat yards and builders.

If the railways are not obtaining paying rates it is because they do not demand them.—Buffalo Commercial.
